

July 7, 2017

Dejanel "Rarri" Carter

RE: Angela "Blac Chyna" White

Dear Mr. Carter:

This office represents Angela White. We have become aware that you may have photos of Ms. White unclothed or partially unclothed. We have also become aware that you may be trying to sell those photos or may try to post those photos on social media.

Posting sexually explicit photos of Ms. White on any social media or distributing those photos by any means has both civil and criminal implications for you. Civil Code § 1708.85 says that she can obtain not only a restraining order against you to prevent the distribution of sexually explicit photos, but also sue you for money damages.

California Penal Code § 647 makes it a crime to distribute any images of "intimate body parts" without the person's consent. Posting online or distributing photos of Ms. White's intimate body parts is a crime punishable by fines and jail time.

This letter is notice to you that you do not have permission to post online or distribute by any means any sexually explicit photos of Ms. White or of her intimate body parts. We will not hesitate to seek all civil and criminal remedies against you if you post or distribute such photos in any manner to any person.

Very truly yours,

THE BLOOM LAW FIRM
A Professional Corporation

Lisa Bloom

LISA BLOOM
Attorney at Law